6.2.1 Introduction

6.2.1.1 Philosophy

We believe Franklin Road Christian School is to be an extension, reinforcement, and partner with the home, assisting the parents in fulfilling their God-given responsibility to “train up a child in the way he should go” (Prov. 22:6; Deut. 6:6-7). The school is designed to assist the home in training the child in a Christ-centered philosophy of life. FRCS desires to graduate young men and women who are academically sound, patriotic, socially refined, and so Biblically knowledgeable that they will live their lives based on Biblical principles and, in so doing, discover and do God’s will for their lives.

The educational philosophy of Franklin Road Christian School is founded upon the inspired, inerrant, and only infallible Word of God. We believe God has given the responsibility for educating children to the parents. (Deuteronomy 6: 4-9) The Christian school functions as an educational arm of the church and exists as an extension of the Christian home to benefit parents in their God-given responsibility to “train up a child in the way he should go” (Prov. 22:6). The Christian school is to assist parents in the education process but never replace the home in its responsibility. The Biblical foundation of the home, church, and school provides each child with the needed resources to be brought to a saving knowledge of Christ; to grow and develop in Christ-likeness; and to glorify the Savior through surrendered service in His will. The entire process of Christian education is seen as a means used by the Holy Spirit to develop each child so that he can fulfill God’s total purpose for his life and in so doing glorify God through holy living and fruitful service. (II Timothy 3:16-17; II Timothy 2:20-21; I Corinthians 10:31)

6.2.1.3 History

Christian texts have been the primary source of textbooks used by Franklin Road Christian School since its inception. It is our desire that the students who have been entrusted to us be taught from a Christian perspective. With this philosophy in place, we have made every effort possible to use Christian texts in our school. Publishers such as Bob Jones University Press and ABeka Books have been used principally to educate our students. Saxon Math, which is a secular text, is used for teaching mathematics.

6.2.2 Curriculum Development

The curriculum for Franklin Road Christian School has been developed over decades and is in the process of constant development and improvement. Biblical principles are integrated in all subjects and activities of the student body. A firm foundation for the fundamentals in academia and religious training is designed for each student in the elementary department. This training continues to develop a God-centered view in the Jr./Sr. High department.

6.2.2.1 Personnel

Each teacher, upon viewing the Scope and Sequence for his/her subject, has the opportunity to add or delete particular aspects of their subject. This enables individual teachers the opportunity to expand beyond the cover of the adopted textbook. Curriculum discussions involve committees comprised of teachers and administrative staff. As curriculum is constantly undergoing revision, so is textbook selection. Textbooks are located that best meet the needs of the students while at the same time promote a Christian philosophy. The steps to review textbooks are as follows:

1. A committee is formed of faculty members in the particular academic discipline that is being considered.
2. The committee obtains four or five sample copies of possible texts.
3. The texts are reviewed, and recommendations are made to the principal.
4. Based on data from the textbook committee and personal knowledge of the subject, the principal accepts or rejects the committee's recommendation.

6.2.2.2 Course Selection

The academic program includes Bible, language arts, mathematics, art, reading, history, science, health, music, and physical education. This foundation is valuable in developing the student's concepts about him/herself, peers, other people, God, the world, and the Christian life. Since the whole philosophy of education is centered around the Word of God, and the school seeks to teach students to develop the mind of Christ, Bible education is most important. Bible is taught each day, and chapel services are held several times during the week.

6.2.2.4 Scheduling of Classes

Several factors enter into scheduling classes for the elementary and secondary grades. The most important consideration in scheduling classes is need. Courses that are state-mandated and courses the school considers necessary to graduate are given priority in scheduling. Another factor in scheduling is availability of personnel. If part-time personnel are employed, the schedule must reflect their availability. If a teacher cannot be found for a particular subject, then that subject cannot be included in the schedule. If at all possible, courses that require more concentration and that are heavy in academic content are scheduled in the morning. Development of a schedule must also include the students' interests. Electives are scheduled based on the student interest. If only a few students are interested in a particular elective, it is not cost-effective to offer that class.

6.2.2.5 Bible Classes

The academic aspects of Bible are addressed because grades are given in Bible class. Bible is the first class taught in the day in K5-6th grade. Bible class is treated like other academic classes with quizzes, tests, and other academic requirements. Bible class is different than other academic classes due in part to the whole period being spent on the Bible instead of Biblically integrating spiritual aspects into the curriculum. Practicality is enforced through enlightening students to the daily walk that they can enjoy with the Lord. Personal separation, devotions, church attendance, and giving to missions are taught and encouraged. Each elementary class adopts a missionary to support through prayer and financial giving. Letters are written, and some classes send boxes of supplies to their missionary.

6.2.2.6 Homework

Franklin Road Christian School believes that homework is an integral part of the school program. Each teacher is at liberty to give homework to aid each student in advancing in his studies. We do expect parents' full cooperation in seeing that assignments are completed. Franklin Road Christian School can administer penalties for incomplete homework, but this alone will not create, in the heart of the student, the desire to get assigned work done. This is the parents' responsibility. Homework assignments should be complete, neat, on time, and written clearly. Homework should never be considered as "busy work". Classroom teachers will give it for a specific purpose. In the elementary department, a homework offense is given for incomplete homework. In the junior/senior high department, homework offenses will be given for homework that is not acceptable or on time. The assignment must still be made up for the next day. Within a nine-week period for the 7th and 8th grade, the fifth through ninth offense will draw 1 demerit each, tenth through fourteenth will draw 2, etc. For the 9th through 12th grade, the fifth homework offense will draw a one demerit penalty; the sixth offense, two demerits; the seventh offense, three demerits; etc.

In order to encourage church attendance for both children and parents, it is the policy of FRCS that teachers will not give homework on Wednesdays. In keeping with the spirit of this rule, no tests or quizzes will be given on Thursdays, except for the following:

Bible verses/tests
Keyboard tests
Classes that meet Tuesday/Thursday only

High school teachers are required to “sign-up” in the school office for a testing date so that an unreasonable amount of tests are not administered on one day (2 per day max. Bible could be added as a third test). Elementary teachers are not allowed to give more than two tests per day.

Homework is assigned for various purposes:

- Practice – Following classroom explanations, illustrations, and study, it may be good for a student to pursue the activity independently for continued mastery and understanding of the skills and concepts taught. This may include review of materials already covered.
- Drill – It may be necessary to engage in drill for mastery of facts and certain skills and concepts.
- Remedial activity – At times some students may have weak levels of understanding, and it may be necessary to do individual assignments as a means of overcoming this weakness.
- Enrichment activity – Many children will need to be challenged to move on to higher levels of attainment. Their own creativity will help to “spark” them to independently reach a broader scope of understanding in various subject fields.
- Special projects – Extension of classroom activities may result in book reports, compositions, special research, searching for various materials to bring to class, and construction of various types of projects.

Some assignments are long range in nature and require planned study time for their completion. Planned study eliminates the necessity of spending too much time in completing an assignment the day before it is due.

Up through grade three, homework assignments usually will not exceed forty-five minutes, grades four through six, one hour. Junior and senior high students should spend up to two hours per day on homework. Of course, some students will require more time and others less.

6.2.2.7 Graduation Requirements

Franklin Road Christian School requires the successful completion of an academic program in excess of the requirements of the State of Tennessee. To graduate from Franklin Road Christian School, a student must accumulate 26 credits during the 9th through 12th grades. To earn one credit, a student must pass both semesters of a subject area. Credits are NOT earned on the yearly average. Credits are earned on a semester average (1/2 credit per semester). Because this is a Christian school, each student must be enrolled in and pass a Bible class each year.

All students in grades seven through twelve should follow the course of study recommended to them by their parents and the administration. This, of course, is to ensure that each student attains as much as possible academically while at Franklin Road Christian School. Following the recommended courses of study will also eliminate problems of meeting graduation requirements during the senior year. Below are recommended courses of study for each grade level for college-bound students.

Graduation Marching Requirements:

- (1) A student must have the full 26 credits in order to receive his or her diploma at the annual commencement exercises.
- (2) A student will be permitted to march at the annual commencement exercises and receive a diploma cover ONLY if he or she falls short by ONLY ONE CREDIT and agrees to the following terms:
 - a. He or she agrees to attend special class sessions on a daily basis (Monday-Friday) from 8:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. until that course is satisfactorily completed (continuing to pay tuition during this time).
 - b. He or she understands that the diploma will be granted privately only when all of the course work is completed and fees paid.
- (3) No student will be permitted to march in commencement exercises who lacks more than one credit for graduation.
- (4) Students must take a minimum of 6 ½ credits every year, including their senior year. The exception is transfer students who may be lacking credits from their previous high school.
- (5) Results of the ACT college entrance test must be on file in the school office before the diploma is granted. Students who plan to attend college should write the college of their choice to find out if there are special requirements for admission. Each college has its own individual requirements, and students will need to plan a school program with the administration to assure fulfillment of particular college entrance requirements. The administration will assist the student in any way possible.

6.2.2.8 Schedule Change

No course may be dropped or added unless the student secures permission from the principal to do so. Any course dropped after the first three weeks of school will be recorded as an "F" unless such a change is recommended by the administration. No course may be dropped or added after the fourth week of the school year. Unless unusual circumstances prevail, a student will retain the same courses throughout the entire year. It may be necessary to cancel any course with fewer than ten students.

6.2.2.9 Credits

One unit of credit shall be based upon 180 class periods of a minimum of 45 minutes net. One-half credit shall be based upon 90 class periods of 45 minutes; one fourth credit shall be based upon 45 class periods of 45 minutes.

6.2.2.10 Procedure for calculating grade point averages

The grading system at Franklin Road Christian School is structured to provide a two-level weighted grading system. This practice allows for additional quality points for passing grades in rigorous academic courses. The purpose of the weighted scale is to recognize the difficulty of certain academic courses and encourage capable students to enroll in these courses. The level one courses include all academic courses not identified in level two. Level two courses include advanced academic courses identified as especially demanding. The current course offerings identified as level two courses include Physics, Human Anatomy and Physiology, Calculus, Advanced Math, and Algebra II Honors. All dual enrollment classes will also be given a level two course rating.

The scale of grades is as follows: A-4 quality points, B-3 quality points, C-2 quality points, D-1 quality points, F-0 quality points. For level two courses the scale of grades is as follows: A-5 quality points, B-4 quality points, C-3 quality points, D-2 quality points, F-1 quality points (if numerical average >60), F-0 quality points (if numerical average <60).

Each student's cumulative GPA will be calculated according to the following formula (calculated by FACTS): $\text{sum of all (semester credit} \times \text{grade points)} / \text{sum of all semester credits}$.

6.2.3 Reporting/Report Cards/Records

6.2.3.1 Grading scale

98-100 = A+	78-79 = C+	59 and below = F
94-97 = A	74-77 = C
90-93 = A-	70-73 = C-
88-89 = B+	68-69 = D+
84-87 = B	64-67 = D
80-83 = B-	60-63 = D-

There should be at least three daily grades for every test given, and there should be at least three tests given per grading period (exceptions for classes meeting only half a week). Grading periods are divided into four nine-week periods.

6.2.3.2 Report cards

1. Report cards are sent home at the end of every nine-week period. Grades are recorded on FACTS computer software provided by the school office. FACTS automatically averages grades. Report cards are printed by the office and envelopes are returned to the teacher for checking. High school report cards will be sent home via email.
2. Attendance is to be recorded by the classroom teacher and checked by the office.
3. Any incompletes should be made up as soon as possible and entered in the appropriate subject area on the FACTS software. All incompletes not completed by end of grading periods (exceptions for extenuating circumstances) are automatically zeroed out.
4. Report cards are distributed by the classroom teachers (elementary).
5. Report cards are withheld for past due accounts.

6.2.3.3 Progress Reports

Grades are updated every weekend. Through our FACTS system, parents can access their child's grades on-line on a daily basis to monitor progress.

6.2.3.4 Permanent Records

The following information is recorded in the student's permanent record:

1. Name
2. Birthdate

3. Race
4. Sex
5. Date of entrance
6. Academic records
7. Testing records
8. Health records
9. Miscellaneous records

The office maintains and updates these files. They are kept in fireproof cabinets located in the office. Access is limited to only the administration, office, and teaching personnel.

6.2.4 Library

6.2.4.1 Mission

To provide adequate material to meet the needs of our students and faculty and to direct students in choosing reading material which will guide them in all areas of Christian life and service.

6.2.4.2 Collection

We seek to provide books that will not only encourage a love of reading but will also contribute to the student's intellectual and spiritual development. New books are obtained from library fund money, donations, and memorial gifts. Fine money from overdue or lost books is also used to buy new books or other materials needed. In the spring, we usually have some type of book drive giving opportunity for parents or students to donate books. It would be appropriate for the librarian to send a thank you card to those families who donate money towards new books. We also try to take advantage of company book fairs that offer 50% off at certain times. As book reports and various projects are assigned to the students, note is made of additional books or materials needed. This aids in the selection and purchasing of new books.

6.2.4.3 Staff

The library staff must be a born-again Christian, have a love for children, have experience in operating a library and a willingness to learn, and have enthusiasm for the job and a vision for the library program.
